

Caroline van Hoek presents Gijs Bakker's Shots at PAD 2013 Paris

During the PAD (Paris Art + Design) fair, Caroline van Hoek will present an overview of Gijs Bakker's bracelet series 'Shot'.

Gijs Bakker designed the Shot bracelets in 1995, when he was looking for an active expression of the moment when a bullet, which has just left the pistol, is finding its way. In the Shot series it's not the hole but the expression and the direction from where the shot is coming the most important principle.

The PAD exhibition will run from March 27th until the 1st of April 2013.
Location: Esplanade des Feuillants 234, rue de Rivoli (opposite the Rue de Castiglione), Paris, FRA (stand 22).

Gijs Bakker designs Plastic Soup bracelet for CHP

For the new upcoming CHP collection Global Identity Gijs Bakker created the bracelet Plastic Soup.

The starting point for Gijs Bakker's design is the Straw. Straws are among the most polluting items; they are generally only used once for about 10 minutes while existing much longer than a lifetime. They consist of non-degradable plastics, which are poisoning our oceans, wildlife and our own health. The 'Plastic Soup' bracelets are made from gold- or silver-plated melted straws and with this jewellery Gijs Bakker brutally directs our attention to this environmental issue.
