

Chi ha paura...? at Salone del Mobile 2012

The Chi ha paura...? exhibition at the Ventura Lambrate In Milan was a great success this year! We had over a thousand visitors a day.

The installation at the gallery consisted of 15 white shirts hanging from cables with 15 jewelry pieces attached.

The CHP visitors were happily surprised to learn that it was not just an exhibition of prototypes but a presentation of our sales collection. You could look, touch and HAVE!

HAN Gallery at Salone del Mobile 2012

After a successful launch at Ventura Lambrate during Milan Design Week 2012, HAN Gallery returns to its base location in Taipei with outstanding results.

The exhibition expressed the vision of HAN Gallery to explore Chinese culture through design and to solidify this conceptual standpoint as a solid commercial strategy.

Immediately after the salone, HAN Gallery partnered with Plusdesign gallery in Milan, with works purchased by important collectors on the spot. Many communications for further partnerships and co-operations are on-going.
